WHY MORE PROFESSIONALS ARE CHOOSING PRIVATE OFFICES IN 2025

The way the world works has changed, but one thing remains clear. Professionals seek office spaces that work as hard as they do. While coworking and hybrid models continue to shape the workplace, private offices are seeing a strong resurgence. Business owners, entrepreneurs, and team leaders are increasingly opting for private office spaces due to the privacy, focus and professionalism they offer.

At Crown Center Executive Suites, we've seen firsthand how this shift is impacting businesses of all sizes. Here's why more professionals are making the move to private offices this year.

Here are some trends we're seeing that show companies are moving away from open spaces:

- The percentage of companies opting for assigned seating declined from 83% to 55% in 2024.
- Hybrid and desk-sharing models increased from 12% to 36%, reflecting a growing preference for flexibility and activity-based work environments.

SUITE SUCCESS HABITS!

Success Habit Spotlight: Remembering Names Like a Pro

Meeting someone new and instantly forgetting their name? You're not alone. Try these quick tips to make it stick:

- Repeat it – Use their name once or twice in conversation.
- Associate it – Connect their name to something familiar (a celebrity, rhyme, or visual cue).
- Write it down – Jot it in your notes with a quick detail about the person.
- Stay present – Give them your full attention when they introduce themselves.

Remembering names is more than polite—it's powerful. It helps build rapport, strengthen relationships, and stand out in a professional setting.
